Tips For Use

The ingredients in Psoriasis Relief work to soothe your skin and relieve the irritation that is caused by psoriasis.

Typically, you will first notice relief from the inflammation and irritation. This will often be followed by a reduction of the swelling, redness, and dryness in the area. The healing process continues by treating the damage caused by the rash and repairing the skin back to a healthy state.

Psoriasis Relief should be applied at least 2-3 times each day while the symptoms exist. Applying it after the rash has been eliminated will repair the damaged skin and also prevent recurrence.

It can either be dripped directly onto the skin, or applied to your fingertip or a moist cotton ball before gently rubbing it into the affected area.

Only 1-2 drops are needed for a small patch of skin. However, if applying to larger areas, you should use as much medicine as is necessary to create a thin layer.
