M Enera

M Enera was developed after years of scientific research and clinical trials. It is proven to balance female reproductive hormones, regulate menstrual cycles, ease menopausal symptoms, and improve egg quality and fertility.

Medicinal Technologies conducts scientific research to develop biopharmaceuticals that target ailments on the cellular level. Using protective technologies like nanocarriers with mucoadhesive polymers and no synthetic sources, we develop OTC small-cell biologics that are free from artificial dyes, parabens, DEA's, fragrances, preservatives, or phthalates.
