HempNesic® is the only FDA registered topical pain-relieving gel that directly influences the endocannabinoid system with Hemp-derived cannabidiol containing Capsaicin, Menthol and Camphor. Numerous studies have demonstrated that mammalian tissue contains at least two cannabinoid (CB) receptors, CB 1 and CB2. CB 1 receptors are shown to mediate analgesia in animal studies. Human studies are ongoing and preliminary data clearly shows that pain is reduced using hemp-based cannabidiol when taken orally or when applied topically.
