Apply relief pain management to the site of the pain and gently rub the medicine into the skin using your fingertip or a cotton swab.

Usually several drops of the medicine are sufficient for smaller patches, but more medicine is necessary to create a thin layer of product on the problem area.

Apply whenever you experience symptoms or pain.

When treating sciatica or neuralgia, you can also apply the medicine to the center of the lower back where the backbone meets the hips to provide systemic support.
